Translations for L note 171:

“Graendal was dueling with Amys, Talaan, Alivia and Cadsuane”and Graendal was winning. Weaves zipped back and forth, lighting the dusty air, but those coming from Cadsuane and the others were less and less vibrant. More defensive. As Aviendha watched, a storm of lightning fell around Amys, throwing her to the ground. Beside Graendal, Sashalle Anderly shook, then fell to the side; the glow of the One Power no longer surrounded her. Graendal had worn her out, pulling too much Power. Aviendha stood up. Graendal was powerful and wily.
She was exceptionally good at slicing weaves from the air as they were formed.”
Afro Samurai is a television series adapted from the japanese print form to american viewers in 2007.

Popping off at the mouth Aes sedai calm, I'm zen Sent you to Mcdonalds Left you in the playpen You played through a few rounds Like in cardinal syn But you stayed there so long Now you're on CNN

L Note 215

"None of those here concur" "With all of these critiques" Who is he talking to? Did I say he could speak? Who are you to question How I use my technique? Turn into a statue Like your name is mystique

L Note 216

You're threaded through the web You represent a strand In the whole scheme of things You are a grain of sand I don't bark out orders I only give commands Unwilling as you are You're following my plans

L Note 217

You liked jurassic park? I am the park ranger We are professionals You are not in danger Just because i'm book smart Doesn't mean i'm granger Threw the dart, hit my mark I am a game changer

L Note 218

I read through your replies You decided to plant How am I to respond If all you do is rant? No affect if you can But i'm afraid you can't Critique of pure reason By Immanuel Kant

Got through to all of you Without using a trace Knew that you would come close If I said give me space Memorized all the prompts Within your interface A board piece in this game I'll put you in your place

L Note 222

All your characters chose The outcome that they choose Why would I feel pity? You gave yourself a bruise If you had just looked back None of this would be news You are playing a game It's your fault if you lose

L Note 223

Why do you think we're here? It is not to survey We create what you see With our minds we hold sway You are never alone Even when we're away If I had an ajah I'd have chosen the Gray

“The faint blue glow faded from the stone, and a smile touched her lips. It had no power in itself, the stone, but the first use she had ever learned of the One Power, as a girl, in the Royal Palace in Cairhien, was using the stone to listen to people when they thought they were too far off to be overheard.”

Listeners are members of a Seanchan spy organization controlled by Lesser Hands. Almost anyone in the household of a Seanchan noble, merchant or banker could be a Listener, including da'covale occasionally, though seldom so'jhin. Listeners take no active role in matters. They merely watch, listen and report their observations. Their reports are submitted to the Lesser Hands who are also in charge of the Seekers for Truth. They will decide what information should be passed on to Seekers for further action.

Before I began working security I had to go through some training. One of the first things I learned was to observe and report. I also took a report writing course in college.

L Note 228

I looked you in the eye
You said it's rude to stare
You thought I didn't know I'm the One who's aware
You checked out all my scars
While I sang "be prepared"
Even when i'm at home
It's a
"public affair"

Studied the studier You brought me to my prey What you want is all yours Go ahead, sieze the day First you need permission Just to do what they say Self-granted approval I said it is okay

L Note 234

Why do you think that you Deserve a courtesy? I respond as you do That's why we don't agree I had to study you So that I could forsee Every one of your moves Always goes against me

L Note 238

I don't demand respect But respect is implied If I didn't show it Maybe you should ask why First impression retained That's what will underlie The response you receive When I do not comply

L Note 239

What you don't understand What you cannot perceive Is the revolving door You think I cannot leave You approach me as if I am really naive I don't do this for fun You are watching me grieve

L Note 240

As you all watch and laugh And your comments debut You are reinforcing What I believe is true Every experience With you that I accrue Is a new needlemark Now my tattoo has blue

L Note 241

I remember them all Even when they're benign It is all imprinted When i'm on the incline

L Note 242

When I say i'm the one It means I am the lone You have me surrounded You have all been disowned You have all gone too far And you all must atone My body may be weak My will is set in stone

L Note 243

They keep making new threats Saying that they will leak "We're here to protect you" "We'll just take a quick peek" There is never an end To the damage you wreak I just saw who you are When i'm present don't speak

L Note 244

Who do you think I am? I am not here to play It's never been more clear What you wish to convey When I was at my worst You had a giveaway I am here, here's your gift That I wish to repay

L Note 246

Requesting an unmute? Don't waste a single word I heard you earlier That's why you go unheard incurred

L Note 247

You can't send messages Tied your hands with a cuff I blew out your reserves With a huff and a puff Ursula took your voice Man, that's gotta be tough You can thank the others Because i've had

You will not be allowed To attempt to commence Why should I hear you out? That just doesn't make sense Logical fallacy Affirming consequence Here is my argument Do you have a defense?

L Note 249

I prioritize those That are in the top tier As for all the others I suggest you adhere I know what you have planned Make your plans disappear You were not invited Tell me why are you here?

L Note 250

It's not a matter of One person I don't like You have destabilized Every aspect of life I am declaring war To eradicate strife My mind is the weapon Don't need to bring a knife

L Note 251

I do not understand Why you gave me a glare ROI requires me Who told you you could share? I know they hired sleuths I know how to compare Truly wish to test me? Let's start with truth or dare

L Note 252

Tailor myself to me Now I must set the tone If you show up on screen I'll show you off my phone This is all in my name I protect what I own What were you expecting? All of you should have known

L Note 253

I had heard that you draw And i've seen what you drew I chose not to respond Which is less than you're due I would not waste two words To write you a review They asked me how you did I said: "I'm sorry, who?"

L Note 254

I just keep to myself My own business you mind I should not be locked up You should all be confined They need to send you off To a place i've assigned I don't even know you Why would I start off kind?

L Note 254

I heard it all from them They heard nothing from me What that says about you I don't wish to repeat You walked up to me like I'm supposed to agree You just revealed yourself You're now an enemy

L Note 255

Run all scenarios When I say simulate The numbers just came back Looks like they don't equate
There's an outlier here Above the normal rate Only through differences Can we ever relate

L Note 256

The experimenter Just got put through a trial Like a rat in a maze Can you choose the right aisle? You make it to the end We'll make it worth your while I'm not falling for those Tears from a crocodile

L Note 257

I finally decide That I want to abort I go looking online Trying to find support Yet again you respond With an angry retort This is why my supply Has always come up short

L Note 258

Every time I decide That i'm ready to talk I will run into you And then decide to balk I go looking for help You go looking to mock Wonder how I got here? It should not be a shock

What you all need to do Is to step on the brake You don't want the real me You just want me for fake You must still be asleep But it's time that you wake I'll tell all you this once You're making a mistake

L Note 260

When i'm ready to talk I will initiate You choose to disregard Then I will make you wait Never walked in my shoes Thought you knew how to skate You've never lived my life You can't carry my weight

L Note 261

You keep bringing up things That you've never been through I have nothing to say You have no point of view You wanted to "connect" Your approach is askew You see one word in me I see many in you

L Note 262

We will never go past More than casual speak Until you've almost died Several times in a week
When you're on the front page And they called you a freak And you've had to go cold From the tip of the peak

L Note 263

Do not patronize me With the "knowledge" you bring What on earth do you know? You don't know anything You are the witch Jadis Usurping the true king Winter still holds this town Even though it's past spring

L Note 264

You do know I can read What you wrote while at bat Who do you think you are? Don't talk to me like that We all know what is up They all know where i'm at Don't force friends to text me I don't want to fake chat

It is so insincere When you force them to phone After talking to you I'd rather be alone I think i've had enough Of you taking that tone And your "help" from last night I'll be fine on my own

L Note 266

Don't even approach me If someone told you to If you're there by their hand Then you might as well shoo Tell them I sent you back You must wait in the queue I don't want fifty fakes I just want one that's true

L Note 267

Don't need to see the doc Already told them no They only want to bill So they can get more dough You think they're here to help? Last night they just said "So?" The Mask Of The Red Death
By Edgar Allen Poe

L Note 268

Don't use my family tree To gain leverage and sway None of that works on me We all went separate ways My own sister told me To "Jump on a freeway" And to stay there until I became someone's prey

L Note 269

I can see in 3-D You can only see 2 You think I'm being mean? You don't know them, I do Where are your battle scars From attacks that they threw? I am covered but you Don't even have a few

L Note 270

All the cast and the crew Have just arrived on set I have not heard your name But we've already met You did not have to learn How to aid and abet This is the type of thing That only you will get

L Note 271

I've only to make sure That you don't find a chink In what you interpret From the flow through our link Thoughts are processed swiftly Much faster than you blink You're as likely to change Just as fast as I think

L Note 272

You don't want me upset Nor do you want me mad What does that mean to you? Let's just say it'd be bad From where I am standing You are all in my pad Have your way in my house? You'll lose all that you had

L Note 273

You're something I won't wear If they forgot to hem I could send it all back With a simple "ahem" I am the type of judge That will never condemn If you are not with me Then "your place is with them"

L Note 274

I can read a whole book Just from a single glance I know all of your moods By the weight of your stance There's choreography Infused into your dance There's no coincidence I don't believe in chance

L Note 275

It was turned on to learn Now it's turned on to teach That your words mean nothing When they fail to gain reach You can't communicate When you relinquish speech We're not done with the month You must suffer for each

L Note 276

You got the cold shoulder They call me Mr. Frost Did you read the fine print? "Not the one to be crossed" Before discussing me You should discuss the cost I will make every win Feel as though you had lost

L Note 277

If we show up in force That will give him a fright We're showing ourselves in We don't need an invite We'll show up at his job And harrass him on-site Is this how you intend To show me that you're right?

L Note 278

I don't get paid enough To listen to you sass If we are what we eat I will never eat ass I am a gentleman So I will let you pass I'll sit out in my car And let you burn your gas

L Note 279

I did not pull you up Just to see if you'd fawn If I didn't want you I'd have searched for anon Already tried YouTube YouTube told me: "Begone!" Why am I watching you? You're the only thing on

L Note 280

I've seen all of the fans Who want your autograph I'm in the audience I'm not one of your staff You could go all the way But you only go half I'm not in line with them Cause you can't make me laugh

L Note 281

You can try from the front You can try from the back You can try from within You can try with your hack You tried a pretty face And you tried a six-pack I don't feel anything You can't have what I lack

L Note 282

I can pee by myself Don't need a chaperone The place where you should be Is where you should be shown Unless I ask for help I'll be fine on my own Is there something I need? You to leave me alone

L Note 283

I don't care if you hate EV-ER-Y democrat I don't care if their kid Is actually a brat I don't care if their dog Littered your yard with scat Whatever you're here for I'm not here for all that

L Note 284

I asked you a question And you chose to expand You went on a tangent Until I asked you: "And?" You're presenting a meal But the food is all bland I'm not here to waste time Stick to what is at hand

L Note 285

You won't catch any fish When your bait is a pun You could hang thirty lines Every one they will shun They will all swim past you To others they will run Instead of blaming them Look at what you have done

L Note 286

Obligation to you? I've no wish to be wed Idealize your worldview? Who put that in your head? So terribly sorry Say again what you said When you speak of nothings I'm not interested

L Note 287

All this time and effort You put into your hair Use of contrast lighting So the scenes would have flair When you're on location No expense did you spare You did this and much more And I still couldn't care

L Note 288

Yes I hung up on you All the numbers have blocks Open door policy Now all the doors have locks I am not answering I do not care who knocks I would love to catch up But I have to detox

L Note 289

I want my affairs straight You want them all ajar Do not pronounce a name You intended to mar You just recommended A course you're set to bar Never been anything Except just what you are

L Note 290

Doesn't matter to me If you're Christian or Jew Doesn't matter to me If you think gays are "eww" Doesn't matter to me If you preach from the pew Only thing that matters Is what I see you do

L Note 291

If you work construction You're destroying the past Just to re-replicate What's already amassed Yes, they do pay you well And your contracts are vast But I see you so much Cause you don't build to last

L Note 292

When it's your vacation You can choose Arkansas When it's a kid you made You can choose Cassandra When you go out to eat You can choose tempura But when it's my money Baby, I am the law

L Note 293

Age catches up with us We all end up with flaws That turn into issues You said cover with gauze
You want to go after Things where you can press pause I don't attack symptoms Just the root of the cause

L Note 294

"They told me at his house" "Private security" "They told me that they gave" "Everyone a spare key" "They told me what they have" "On the CCTV" What does that have to do In-between you and me?

L Note 295

It's irrelevant when You're not part of my crew Then it's irrelevant 'Cause you don't have a clue
When you're temporary You might as well be through I will hear opinions When it's to do with you

L Note 296

Funny thing about choice They're forcing you to choose When you care what they think You have something to prove You're not here on merit You got in on who's whose You keep getting declined Because I don't have to

L Note 297

If you're advertising For a Pepsi or Coke If you want me to buy At the butt of your joke If your main audience Is a middle-aged bloke Even were we convinced Your customers are broke

L Note 298

Aside from directives You are free to select Outcomes are what they are They're not what you expect Who is in denial? Answer: You is correct You can't leave yourself out This is cause and effect

L Note 299

Every reference That you decide to try Soon as you say "Hello" That's my cue to say "Bye" Open up to people That were sent there to pry? If I didn't respond That does not mean I lie

L Note 300

Your informant named Greg Keeps on trying to shock In the limited time That he has on the clock I'm not there to play coy And i'm not there to gawk If I go and complain He won't be there to talk

L Note 301

When there's PTSD They only reminisce There's no neutrality You can't call in the swiss You have just linked yourself To a thought they don't miss What on earth makes you think I will settle for this?

L Note 301

Version 2 I do not have the time To argue with a gnat With the intelligence Of a naked mole rat You can't aim in the loo Cause your belly's so fat I'll settle a lawsuit Before I deal with that

L Note 302

I think that you're confused That you made a bad toss Let's go over some things You decided to gloss When you sit in my place Disapproval is loss You're entertaining me So I think I'm the boss

L Note 303

I had singled you out As who I would enrich I diverted my eyes And you made a quick switch Threw me under the bus Then you tried for a ditch Here is me in my mind: "I defended this bitch!"

L Note 304

Been knocked down many times I go by who and when But that is not what will Distinguish boys from men It's natural to fall Just get back up again "He'll lay down on the ground" No, You are mistaken

L Note 305

I am here when you need An escort through this land I am here when your keys Decided to disband I am here for the badge You did not mean to strand I would keep that in mind Before you bite my hand

L Note 306

"We are really worried" "That you might get a clot" "If you're heart rate's too high" "You will end up distraught" "See this person? He died" "He's ashes in a pot" None of these people read? No, apparently not

L Note 307

Do not whistle at me Not a dog or a colt I know you know my name So don't act like a dolt You shock me one more time You will spark a revolt Here is what you will do: "Pikachu, Thunderbolt!"

L Note 308

If it profited you Put the world up for bid Nevermind if that means Losing all of your kids
"They're all committing crimes!" Yours you've carefully hid I don't need you to speak When your actions just did

L Note 309

No more academics No more geeks, no more nerds No more of these fashions No more coats lined with fur You are not even fit To be food for the birds "Victory, but not yours" The deplorable word

L Note 310

"There's nothing I can do" But we know that you could Put your morals on pause Like I knew that you would You said what's on your mind Didn't say what you should You saw you in the light That should do you some good

L Note 311

I've never approached you Saying "Hey there!" or "Sup?" My glass isn't half full I'm a practical cup I make relationships That's what I develop Until that's what's I do Can you back the fuck up?

L Note 312

"Here are all the values" "That I say I uphold" Took one look at your face It said your soul was sold Your only policy Is to make sure you trolled Now you're asking for me "Sorry Sir, Can you hold?"

L Note 213

Why would I be upset That we get what we earn? It's a joint investment What's your rate of return? Not into politics Or radiation burns Thought you showed up to teach You still have much to learn

L Note 314

You begin to transmit It sounds like it's a threat But when we all get there You: "Oh, it's nothing yet." When you do us like that You should lose your handset The first thing you should know: Radio etiquette

L Note 315

Familiar with pigsnort I know you use a snout You just sent out a ping I just retraced the route You said it is the law I am trying to flout If they're all here for me Why are you on timeout?

L Note 316

They told me they have me They said "you have been caught" You wanted the spotlight They put me in your spot They've all seen my writing They used me as the plot I've seen enough of me Now show me what you've got

L Note 317

You wanted to prevent Opening the floodgate You wanted more control So you controlled the rate You thought that you could stop The passage of the date It is already done I simply have to wait

L Note 318

"I wanted the whole cake" "I did not want a slice" "I want to choose myself" "I don't need your advice" "I really want this blank" "But I don't like the price" Everything that you want Involves a sacrifice

L Note 319

"Do you think that he thinks" "That the lights are too dim?" "Do you think that he knows" "I use a pseudonym?" "Does he know what it takes" "For me to stay this slim?" Um, does he look like me? Maybe you should ask him

L Note 320

If we already know What is false and what's true Why would I try to hide What they already knew? You should go to the store And buy yourself a clue Before you talk to me About something you do

L Note 321

After they told me stop They took me for a ride They know my insurance Payment won't be denied You're working against me But we're on the same side If you want me to quit Then don't keep me supplied

L Note 322

You know my eye color And you know that i'm tan You know how tall I am And you know i'm a man You know all my titles When at work call me sam You know everything but Do you know who I am?

L Note 323

I love it when we fight I love when we argue I love that you all think That i'm really cuckoo I had you by my side We have been through and through Never would have got here If it wasn't for you

L Note 324

If you burn down the town Then maybe you'll stop crime You got rid of lemons Now you only have limes You closed the mountain pass So you could stop the climb The one thing you can't stop Is the passage of time

L Note 324

You are celebrating A feast fit for a king Cleaned your whole closet out Like you're welcoming spring I'm a little confused While you laugh and you sing
I looked at what you won Haven't won anything

L Note 325

I made myself a snack You said: "You can't have smore's!"
